“There is something each of us can do that no other person can. We absolutely must do these things. Or we fall apart.”

“You can't say you've really seen a thing until you've tried to draw it.”

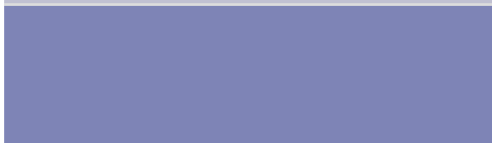

- A mentor

Fibromyalgia is a medical condition that affects more than three million Americans, possibly up to six million. The cause is unknown, and the list of symptoms varies from person to person, but I'll paraphrase for you: it basically makes you about fifty years older.
